OMC CHURCH TEAM
SPECIAL EVENTS COORDINATOR

Special events maximize involvement of children, youth, and adults in the OMC. They provide a greater opportunity for participation from unchurched and other special groups living in your community. Each event should focus on the personalization of missions through celebrating how God is at work throughout the world in the lives of His people.

The church OMC Special Events Coordinator leads participants in establishing personal relationships with guest missionaries by guiding them to commit to pray daily for missionaries and their ministries. This coordinator helps participants learn about opportunities to serve as volunteers. Special events need to stimulate participants' sense of touch, smell, sight, and hearing. The most effective special events are those that are most creative.

Duties of the Associational Church OMC Special Events Coordinator include planning, promoting and conducting the church events that target the church family and prospects.

If your church wants children, youth, and adults to participate in our OMC 2012, you must intentionally target these age groups. The Coordinating Team should ask these questions:

- What compels your people to attend special events?
- What elements must be present for children, youth, and adults to attend?
- How can I best promote the special events our Association has planned (Missions Rally and Mission Fair)?
- Consider a church wide prayer breakfast or supper to pray for the up-coming OMC 2012.
